Insurance – How to Protect Yourself

With Phil Wilson

Personal accident insurance, public liability insurance, directors and officers' liability, professional indemnity – the insurance requirements can these days be quite daunting. This seminar will provide information about the types of insurance that individuals should be aware of and which policies can be considered in order to best protect themselves.

Phil has extensive experience in insurance and has assisted many artists and arts organisations through his company Interpacific Insurance which was founded in May 1989. As a Small Business operator he understands the requirements of other Small Businesses and adapts and tailors Insurance Programs that will meet needs today and well into the future.
